Successful summer for Brook Gallery

BUDLEIGH Salterton's Brook Gallery recently held an evening for invited guests to celebrate the launch of two complementary exhibitions of printed work.

The gallery was showing the work of Russian artist Wassily Kandinsky, alongside internationally acclaimed Devon-based artist Patrick Jones' monochrome work.

This summer the gallery has displayed four new artists. Martin Langford's work of monochrome etchings were of a humorous nature, while John Geldhill's woodcuts have been shown in the Royal Academy of Arts.

Work by Colin Moore and Gail Brodhalt has added to the gallery's summer season of new artists.
